Dear Sir/Madam

I recently purchased some EP Cutting Oil from your selves. You asked me at the time to let you know if it was any good.

I can quite confidently tell you that it was very good.

A particular job we do on a regular basis involves drilling holes in stainless steel. This would normally mean sharpening the drill bits quite frequently, but when using EP Cutting Oil the drill bits do go on much longer before needing sharpening.

Another advantage we have found with the EP Cutting Oil is that when it is sprayed onto the work piece, the fluid stays localised, thus less mess and less wastage.

I do hope you can keep us supplied in the future.

Kind regards

KEVIN HUGHES
